INTRODUCTION

BY JEDEKIAH

Said the editor to the foreman, the "Annual" must be printed,
And the foreman blandly smiled and said, that fact has oft been hinted;
But the time has come when hints won't do, the copy must be ready

Uncle Sid

And then we all will go to work, and at it keep right steady Until every word has found its place in all the printed pages,
When all of us shall fondly hope for an increase in our wages;
For of all the trying stuff to set that printers have undertaken,

That non-pareil of them reports, is the most difficult of makin'.

And so the editor went to work to secure the proper matter,
And he wrote, and wrote, and wrote again, before some folks would answer;

But by and by the reports came in,
though some were late and meagre,

Jedekiah

But nothing loth, all went to work, for all were then quite eager;
Stenographer, lineotyper, proof-reader, foreman—all,
The make-up man, and all the rest, the great ones and the small
Put in their time throughout the day, and some worked in the night
That the "Christian Annual" might come out, and in time and dress be right.

So here it is with all its faults, its errors, and its merits,
The fruit of many an anxious hour, and labor without credits;
But if to you this "Annual" a little help shall be,
The editor and all the rest who worked so faithfully,
Shall be content and feel well paid
For every little deed they've done, and every word they've said.
But before this page shall go to print and be given you to read,
The editor would thank each one for every kindly deed;
He would not forget the writer—Jedekiah—as you know,
Nor would he slight old Uncle Sid, my friend of long ago;
And so I, old Jedekiah, and he, old Uncle Sid,
Shall toil along together as the Master may us bid,
And when life's sun shall rise for us upon the golden shore,
Together we shall rest awhile, where "Annuals" are no more.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH AND WOMEN PREACHERS

[Editorial]

So far as known to the writer, the Christian Church has never by any formal action declared itself in favor of women preaching, but since the days of James O'Kelly until now, women have been licensed by the Christian Church to preach, and ordained to the eldership of the church, and that too with a minimum of porary with Elias 1812) and a co-laborer Cram, who at the first Free Will Baptist minister, and then went forth in His name to declare His grace to a lost race. To have done so would have been to sit in judgment upon the experience and conscientious conviction of those heroic women, who through all their years believed themselves ministers of His grace, and called of heaven to proclaim it; and upon the experience and conscientious conviction of the many good women who to-day as Christian ministers are proclaiming Jesus Christ with a sincerity, effectiveness, and power scarcely equaled by the strongest men. We enroll the names of eighty-two women, who are at this time members of Christian conferences, which licensed them to preach, many of them having been ordained by the laying on of hands, and thus clothed with the authority of elders in the Church of Jesus Christ. These women not only hold membership in conferences, but many of them are conference officers, some of them are doing the work of an evangelist, and others are serving as pastors of churches.

Having cited the above facts concerning the church to which the writer belongs, and in whose responsibilities he shares, it becomes him to mention what at least seems to him to be the ground of faith and conduct, not only of the church of the past, but the church of to-day.

Women Under the Old Dispensation

That women were divinely commissioned under the Old Dispensation for special public service none will deny, but at the same time some think they were disfranchised at the close of that dispensation, even though the new was the better one. Deborah was divinely authorized to declare the word of the Lord, and give orders for the defense and safety of the oppressed Israelites. Huldah, an approved prophetess of the Lord, was consulted by Josiah, the penitent king, to whom she sent such a thrilling message from Jehovah that it caused all Judah and Jerusalem to tremble and turn to the Lord. At the very dawn of the Christian Dispensation stands Anna, the prophetess, publicly worshipping God in the temple. On the day of Pentecost, the opening day of the church on earth, Peter, the chief speaker of the occasion, declared that Joel's prophecy was being fulfilled, when he said,

And it shall come to pass afterward that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions: and also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my Spirit.—Joel 2: 28, 29.

It should be noted that Joel makes no distinction between men and women, but mentions them both in the same terms, "sons and daughters," "servants and handmaids." One notable instance of the fulfillment of this prophecy is found in the four virgin daughters of Phillip, who did actually prophesy. And it should be remembered, too, that the first message of the Christian dispensation was committed to woman, and she authorized to declare it by Christ Himself.

Women in Apostolic Times

That women did actually labor in public and do all that men were required to do as preachers is clearly and definitely set forth in Scripture. 'Tis true they did not preach in any formal way as preachers do now, but they did prophesy—that is teach, and that too in various and in public places.

That the prophesying mentioned by Paul means other than foretelling future events may be plainly seen from the following Scripture:

But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men edification, and exhortation, and consolation.—1 Cor. 14: 3.

From this it is evident that prophesying means speaking, exhorting, or instructing in such a manner as to edify and comfort those who heard.

He that speaketh in a tongue edifieth himself; but he that prophesieth edifieth the church.—1 Cor. 14: 4.

For ye all can prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be exhorted.—1 Cor. 14: 31.

But if all prophesy, and there come in one unbelieving or unlearned, he is reproved by all, he is judged by all.—1 Cor. 14: 24.

From these utterances, and others like them, I submit that the gift of prophesy was not limited to foretelling future events, but included public testimony, public address, public teaching, and what, in these modern days we call preaching. The apostle Paul must have understood that prophesying was public teaching and that it belonged to women as well as to men, for he gave very clear and definite instruction how to do it.

Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoreth his head. But every woman praying or prophesying with her head unveiled dishonoreth her head; for it is one and the same thing as if she were shaven. For if a woman is not veiled let her also be shorn; but if it is a shame to a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be veiled.—1 Cor. 11: 4, 5, 6.

Instruction as to how to do a thing carries with it the right to do it. Paul sanctioned prayer and prophesying by women when he instructed them how to do them. Whatever may be the meaning of praying and prophesying in respect to men, is precisely the same in respect to women. The only difference named by the apostle in his instruction is that man should have his head uncovered, and that because he was the head, and in authority, and that woman should have hers covered, because she was in subjection to the man, and that too by the law of God.

In addition to this, it might be stated that it was a custom among the Romans, the Greeks, and the Jews, that woman should be veiled; and it was not lawful among the Jews for woman to be seen in public places without her veil, and to do so was to dishonor her head, and her husband, and to announce herself a public character. A literal interpretation of Paul's instructions would veil every woman who would pray in public, and thus establish oriental customs in the land of the Occident, which would mix things up quite badly to say the least.

Paul Had Women "Helpers" in His Ministry

In his letter to the Philippians, Chapter 4: 3, he says,

Yea, I beseech thee also, true yokefellow, help these women, for they labored with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and the rest of my fellow workers, whose name are in the book of life.

From Paul's reference to these good women it is easily understood what kind of servants of the church Phoebe was, and Tryphena, and Tryphosa, who labored in the Lord, and Persis which labored abundantly. How significantly Paul calls Priscilla and Aquila helpers in Christ. What he says of Aquila, the man, he says of Priscilla, the woman.

Should it be said that these women who labored with Paul in the gospel, merely helped him by ministering to his temporal necessities, it may be replied that to labor for the support of the gospel and to labor in the gospel are very different things. Paul supported himself and they who labored with him labored in the gospel. Paul exhorts his yokefellows, and the church, to help them, together with Clement, and other fellow laborers, which plainly implies that their necessities should be provided for and their wants supplied, as laborers with him in the gospel. In his letter to the Romans he says,

I commend unto you Phoebe, our sister, who is a servant of the church that is at Cenchreae: that ye receive her in the Lord, worthily of the saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever matter she may have need of you: for she herself also hath been a helper of many, and of mine own self.—Romans 16: 1, 2.

By "servant" Paul does not mean one who is menially such, but the same as a laborer of whom he speaks, including himself, when he says "we your servants for Jesus' sake." It is evident that women prayed, prophesied, and preached in public places during Paul's ministry, and that too by his approval and under his personal supervision.

Paul's Pronouncement in Favor of Silence

There are but two places known to the writer where any emphasis is laid upon silence by the women in all the New Testament Scriptures, and to these two passages we turn our attention. One thing must be borne in mind, and that is that whatever Paul said, and whatever he meant in these two passages was in keeping with what he had said before, for he must not be at variance with his own words and actions; he must not contradict himself. There is no jargon in the teaching of the Scriptures; and with this definite understanding we proceed to notice the two passages upon which some would build their prohibition of women preaching.

What did Paul mean when he said to the Corinthian church, "Let the women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but let them be in subjection, as also saith the law. And if they would learn anything, let them ask their own husbands at home; for it is shameful for a woman to speak in the church?" Did he mean what he said, and did he say what he meant? Most assuredly, Yes. This definite pronouncement upon woman is not to be regarded as a reminder of "Oriental" or "Israelite" preconceptions from which even Paul was not entirely free. He had written, "There can be neither Jew nor Greek; there can be neither bond nor free, there can be no male and female; for ye all are one man in Christ Jesus," but he was not entirely free from his long and careful training. Nor will it do to say that it applies to a mere temporary phase of social life, which found its typical exemplification in Corinth in Paul's day. We can only know the application of this pronouncement by knowing what existed then, and may exist now, and Paul's instruction concerning it. Throughout the entire chapter there is one great principle asserted, the principle that all things be done to edifying. He said, "He that prophesieth speaketh unto edification." "He that prophesieth edifieth the church." Seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church. Let all things be done unto edifying. The personal is to be sacrificed for the benefit of the body. He insists that all things be done decently and in order; he condemns the speaking in tongues, the babble and confusion of their worship and gives as a reason that God is not the author of confusion, but of peace and order. Paul enforces the law of self-control, common order, and good behavior upon all worshipers. Paul would have them understand that mere sound, a babbling of tongues, a boastful, loud declaration of joy might stimulate the ear and thrill the nerves, but in it all there was no edifying, nothing but disorder and confusion. Not even pipe and harp would be tolerated by this orderly man, except they give a distinction in sound so that one could tell who piped and who harped. Paul's plain instruction to all—not only to the Corinthian church—is, let no one interfere with another; let each feel a spirit of subjection, and practice self-control. Let not those who act in a disorderly manner in the congregation say that they are under the influence of the Spirit. It is not so. God is not the author of confusion and disorder, and some speaking, and others praying, and still some others asking questions, and babbling is disorder and confusion, and God is not the author of such work, but condemns it. Now Paul facing that condition said, "At least let your women behave themselves becomingly here in Corinth, or in Dayton, or any other place." Let them be law abiding everywhere, for Paul knew there was a Jewish law against woman having any public part in matters of that kind. It is quite evident that Paul refers to conditions of disorder, of questioning, of contradicting, of babbling, of confusion, of objecting, of criticising, and other forms of disorder, and would remind the women that it was bad enough for men to engage in that sort of conduct, and that the law of Christ actually forbade them having either part or lot in such disorderly conduct. Under the customs of that day—and of this, too—men take to themselves rights which they stoutly deny to women, and it was a common occurrence for men to question, and deny, and dispute during a public service, and Paul prohibits woman from having any part in such bad behavior. To woman he says, here is your opportunity for self-control, for edifying the body of Christ. Don't add to the confusion, don't question your husband in public; ask him at home. Don't make a spectacle of yourself in a public place and violate all womanly gentleness and grace. Let the men alone in their disputing, and their wranglings, and janglings, but you practice order and good behavior and thus obey the law of your own life here in Corinth, and every other place, and at every other time. The Jewish idea and law for woman was that she should know nothing but the use of the distaff, but Christianity's idea and law are that she shall be a woman. She was less than a woman until the prophesy of Joel was fulfilled concerning her, when she, by the Spirit of God, was prepared to prophesy, i. e., teach—as well as man. And that women did prophesy, i. e., teach, is evident from what the apostle says in chapter 11:5, when he lays down definite rules to regulate this part of their conduct while ministering to the public. A literal interpretation of Paul's language would prevent her from testifying in prayer-meeting, teaching a class in Sunday-school, or doing any other form of service in the public assembly.

It is evident that his pronouncement does not even in a remote sense include the question of women preaching. "Keep silence." Paul does not say a word about preaching; silence is the word. He does not say a word about praying; not a word about singing; not a word about testifying; not a word about doing any sort of mission or Sunday-school work. Silence is the word. Keep your mouths shut when you go to church, is what Paul said, for the word he uses means silence—hold your peace. What silence would prevail, what peaceful worship men would have, if only the women would literally obey Paul's injunction. If they would speak, or sing, or pray, or testify, or do any other thing that would require vocal expression, they must leave the church, and if they want to know anything, must ask their husbands at home, if they be married, and if not, then what?

This injunction was given to the married women of the church at Corinth, and every other place where like conditions exist. That the injunction was to the married women is quite conclusive, for the reason that they are told to ask their husbands at home. Paul would say to all questioning, quibbling women,

"If you have a husband, don't annoy him in public by your questions, ask him at home." I have often wondered what a poor woman would do who either had no husband, or one who could not answer her questions.

This injunction was given in the interest of orderly worship; in the interest of domestic peace; in the interest of good manners; in the interest of a religion the purpose of which is to elevate woman, and not enslave her.

There is not a body of Protestant believers on the earth that literally obeys Paul's injunction, for all permit them to sing, most of them pray, lecture, teach in Sunday-school, do missionary work; some to exhort and many to preach, while not one insists upon silence. What nobody obeys, nobody should quote as authority for others. And it should be borne in mind that Paul says keep silence in the churches. Paul did not mean meeting-houses, nor did he say meeting-houses, he said churches, the ekklesia, that which is called out, so that no matter where the believers should meet for worship there women should keep silence. What a meeting it would be!!! But I suppose there are some so extremely fond of their own happiness that it would be increased by a consciousness of exclusiveness. But not Paul, nor yet his Master.

But how about that more explicit pronouncement of Paul in 1 Timothy 2: 11, 12:

Let a woman learn in quietness with all subjection. But I permit not a woman to teach, nor to have dominion over a man, but to be in quietness.

Notice that Paul couples teaching with authority. "I permit not a woman to teach, nor to have dominion over a man, but to be in quietness," and then goes on to give his reason for saying what he did. A church or the church is a body of believers in Jesus Christ. Now the government of the church, the control of the body under the great head of the church, devolves upon man, and not upon woman. When it comes to making laws, man is in authority. God placed him there, and every right minded woman is anxious for him to remain there. The voice of the church is masculine, not feminine. When it comes to the business side of the church where authority, legislation, law are in demand man is to enjoy his God-given dominion. Paul well knew that in the church of that day, and of this too, there would be some things too indelicate for woman to discuss in public, and tasks beyond her strength and ability, and especially so if they involved the question of authority. It's a man's job to run the church, to finance the kingdom on earth, to make laws, to transact business, to have dominion, and woman, wise, gentle woman, when rightly adjusted to the law of home is content to have it so, and she neither cries aloud in a public place, nor seeks to usurp authority over the man—whom God has placed at the head of affairs in His Kingdom, and upon whom He lays the responsibility of exercising dominion in the affairs of His church.

The sainted N. Summerbell, in an address he once gave—"Our Girls"—said:

Let it be remembered, girls, that women were the first inspired persons of the New Testament.

Women were the first to announce the Savior's coming.

Women were the first to announce the Savior's resurrection.

Women were in the first prayer-meeting in Jerusalem.

Women were among the first preachers at Pentecost.

Women were the first converts in Judea, Samaria, and Europe. The Bible names eight women who were prophets, and nowhere forbids a woman preaching.

In addition to all this many proofs might be adduced from woman's ability, experience, call, and service, but the question was to be answered from Biblical authority and to that the argument has been confined.

"They talk about a woman's sphere
As though it had a limit;
There's not a place in earth or heaven,
There's not a task to mankind given,
There's not a blessing or a woe,
There's not a whispered 'yes or no,'
There's not a life, a death, or birth;
That has a feather's weight of worth,
Without a woman in it!"

A MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY

For several years now there has been the possibility of reporting progress in the way of giving to home missions and also in the work that has been accomplished. This year is no exception and we are able to announce that this is the banner year.

We have, counting the preaching places in the western fields, thirty-eight home mission points and one field worker whom we are aiding. At these points the average church attendance during the year was 1,829. There were 2,880 sermons preached and 8,533 calls made. As a result of this work there were 649 conversions and 503 additions to the church. We believe that this is a good showing for the amount of support they received.

The department of our work where we are placing the most money at the present time is in the Church Aid. It is a work that is little recognized by many on account of its smallness of appeal to the sympathy of folks who do not stop to estimate the need of permanent resource building. When we consider that there is yet much foundational work to be done in our churches, we realize the value of aiding the churches to a larger efficiency now.

In looking over the history of the Christian Church one is impressed with the number of strong city churches that have received aid at some time, from home missions. Two of the missionaries on the foreign field are being supported by churches which were the outgrowth of home missions. Just this year two missionaries are planning to go from one of our home mission churches and start a self-supporting mission in India.

City church extension work is already bearing most excellent harvest for our Church. Sowing for that work now, means a greater harvest later on.

Indirectly the Home Mission Department is aiding in the work at several of our schools. At Jireh, Wyoming, and at Albany, Mo., also there is a plan to co-operate with the New England brethren at the Bangor Theological Seminary at Bangor, Me. Last year we aided Franklinton, the colored school in the South, to the extent of $532.00.

In the frontier work there is much interest being created through the success of the present workers. During the last year superintendents have been placed in both fields and are doing well. A new home was built in Jireh for the superintendent of the Wyoming work. This was made possible by the efforts of Rev. W. S. Alexander himself, and is the property of the Mission Board.

Home mission receipts last year were, not counting church property sales, $12,213.19, this year the same sources bring $13,481.28. This is the most yet received from the same sources for the home mission work, so this is the banner year. We trust that every member of the Christian Church may strive to make each succeeding year a banner year.

OUR FOREIGN MISSIONS

By M. T. Morrill, Foreign Mission Secretary

Reports from our missionaries in Japan detailing the past year's work are most excellent, and leave no chance to doubt that the year just closed has been the best experienced by our Japan Mission. Almost no expansion was allowed by the appropriation, but intensive work has brought good results. The Japan Christian Conference never occupied so large a place as it does now. All are hopeful for the future. People who take pains to read the reports as published in the annual report number of The Christian Missionary will observe how much of missionary effort and its fruits cannot be tabulated. However, the following figures will be helpful:

	1915	1916
Organized churches	14	14
Church members	938	1,065
Baptisms	97	118
Sunday-schools	31	34
Enrollment	2,774	3,047
Money raised on the field	$744.42	$900.00

The appropriation for the coming year is $11,000.00, just the same as last year, and far short of the sum asked for and absolutely needed.

In Porto Rico the work has been greatly hindered by the illness of missionaries and pastors. There are nevertheless bright spots in the year's history, and great reasons for encouragement. The purchase of an automobile for the mission was the best possible investment, from which we are already seeing good results. Here are some figures:

	1915	1916
Organized churches	5	5
Church members	264	273
Baptisms	?	20
Sunday-schools	7	8
Enrollment	663	649
Money raised on the field	$251.49	$273.82

For the coming year the appropriation will be $4,100.00, the same as last year, with $250.00 for repairs and up-keep of buildings. Absolutely no advance can be made with so small an allowance.

Our financial showing is encouraging, and marks progress. Every year sees some improvement, albeit not so rapid as we could wish.

RECEIPTS

	1915	1916
General fund	$18,235.41	$20,090.68
Special funds	1,731.93	1,870.67
Borrowed	3,000.00	2,000.00
	<hr/>	<hr/>
	$22,967.34	$23,961.35
Increase in general funds		$ 1,855.27
Increase in special funds		138.74
Increase in total funds		994.01
Deficit	$ 8,044.35	$ 7,631.05
Decrease		413.30
Administration expense	$ 2,225.60	$ 2,222.57

This showing is possible in spite of the large travel expense of the Foreign Mission Secretary incurred in participating in the Panama Congress in February, and the Porto Rico Conference in March.

We anticipate still further advance in both our missions and home base work in the current year. Here are the definite things we desire to do:

1. Swell the receipts of the general fund several thousand dollars above the receipts of the past year. There should be a natural increase, as happens most years: with extra effort we can beat our past records.

2. Generally enlist all churches not using systematic weekly offering plans to give for the foreign mission cause on the day's wage plan: i. e., all church members contributing at least a day's wage toward our foreign work. We had encouraging responses last year, and people are promising to do better this year.

3. Double or treble the number of churches financing their work by the every-member canvass and weekly offering.

4. Get the history and present status of our own missions before every church in some form, through mission study or otherwise.

5. Buy a building lot for our Dogenzaka station in Tokyo, Japan. We are asking for at least $2,600.00, and there is already some money in sight. We know of no more urgent need of church lot and building in either home or foreign field than this.

6. Secure mission homes in Japan and Porto Rico. For months the Garmans have hunted in vain for a suitable house; they cannot remain in Japan without a home. The Barretts are likely to be homeless when the premises they occupy are sold to settle an estate. We are praying for individuals, churches, and conferences to make these things possible.

There is therefore no reason why the present should not be a year of splendid missionary achievement with us.

A "PUBLISHING" MESSAGE

BY O. W. WHITELOCK

Department Secretary, and President Christian Publishing Association

At the beginning of the present quadrennium, October 9, 1914, The Christian Publishing Association began doing its own printing on its own presses and also launched out upon a job business department. The expenditure necessary for the proper equipment was large. It was also necessary to make extensive changes in the building to properly engage in this line of business. Only a small amount of the old business of the Drury Printing Company was retained and new business must be secured to put the business on a paying basis. It was impossible to do this the first year. The first year's business was disappointing, as the losses in that department were found at the close of the year to be $2,228.45. This was really an alarming result, but the Board decided this line must be pushed and our Manager and this department head undertook to bring a different result the following year, which was the year just closing. It was considerable of a task to bring a heavy loss to a gain in one year, but this has been done. While the profits of this department have not been large, yet we feel that any profit for the year just closed is a distinctive business victory. The gains the past year as is shown by the report of Mr. Rathbun, Manager, were $794.37. This department now seems to be upon a reasonably safe business basis, and appears to be a valuable part of the business of our Publishing House. In fact, the Board deems the outlook in this department to be hopeful and in which the possibilities of development are encouraging. We appeal to our brotherhood everywhere to patronize our Job Department, by so doing you will help the cause of the Christian Church, which the Association is trying to serve.

The Herald of Gospel Liberty

The cost of the paper for The Herald has doubled the past year. The cost of The Herald paper last year was $2,154.88. The same paper this year will cost $4,309.76. All other material that enters into the publishing of a paper has increased in cost, the wages of the men employed in the printing trades have increased. With a loss on The Herald last year of $1,880.73 staring the Board of Trustees in the face, what was the Board to do?

A loss of over $4,000 next year on The Herald alone was inevitable if the size and price remained the same as last year. Such losses, if continued a few years, would put the House out of business. There seemed to be but one remedy, but one thing to do, and that was to increase the subscription price of The Herald and at the same time cut down the number of pages. This has been done.

Will the members of the Christian Church be loyal to the Board of Trustees of The Christian Publishing Association in its effort to publish the official paper of the Church, at not a prohibitive loss to the House, nor at a prohibitive price to our constituency?

We have undertaken to find the "Golden Mean" which will be fair and just to all. We believe our people want to be loyal to the Church and all its interests. Any one who thinks upon the subject for a moment must conclude that we cannot do without our paper. We must know each other, we must know what we are doing in the different parts of our Zion.

Every department of the Church must be in touch with the whole Church, the whole Church must also know what its servants are doing in all departments. The only way to know and to do is to have our own paper. It is a necessity for the growth and development of our Church. Our Church doctrines are broad enough and simple enough for all Protestant Christians to unite upon. No other church has broad enough principles upon which all denominations can unite. Our Church has an important place in the work. We can if we will do much to answer the prayer of our Master "that they may be one as we are."

THE MANAGER SAYS:

New prices are in effect on all publications:—The Herald of Gospel Liberty—$1.75 a year; $1.50 for ten months. Sunday School Teachers and Officers Journal—50 cents a year single subscription, or in clubs of three or more to one address, 35 cents each per year, or ten cents each per quarter. Bible Class Quarterly, 5 or more, 20 cents per year; 5 cents per quarter. Intermediate Quarterly, 5 or more, 16 cents per year; 4 cents per quarter. Junior Quarterly, 5 or more, 16 cents per year; 4 cents per quarter. Sunday School Herald—5 or more, 40 cents per year; 10 cents per quarter; single subscription, 50 cents per year.

OUR LARGER OUTLOOK

The Sunday-school forces of the Christian Church should unite with larger purpose and prospect for service to the kingdom than at any other time in the history of the church. The needs are greater, the fields are whiter, the calls are more urgent, the opportunities are bigger with promise, and the spirit calls us to united effort for the salvation of the young, the training of the saved, and the service of the trained. The call in the immediate future to the Sunday-school forces of the church is made more urgent because of the great work that has been accomplished in the past, which inspires faith in the future; and because no other organized power of the church has proved its efficiency to undertake and accomplish such great things for the kingdom.

The Sunday-school enlists a larger number of workers; prints more books; circulates more periodicals; engages more editors; reaches more millions; adds more members to the church; employs more teachers; sings more songs; touches a wider circle of life, extending from the cradle to the grave, uniting all ages, all conditions, and possibilities; uses more Bibles, and blesses more homes than any other sub-organizations of the church.

The Sunday-school has within its grasp the life and growth of the church of the future. It touches the fountain of life at its source, blessing childhood in life, spreading flowers on infant graves, shedding tears of sympathy with the distressed, cheering old age by visits from workers, gladdening the hearts of the afflicted in hospital and home, touching the tenderest cords of the heart with sunshine and smiles.

The Sunday-school makes infancy sweeter, childhood brighter, youth happier, manhood stronger, and old age richer and riper for the blessings of living. It brightens the cold winter Sundays, shortens the hot days of summer, gathers the fragrant flowers of spring and the golden harvests of autumn. It teaches the Word of Truth to millions, opens the door of hope to the poor, increases the intelligence of the people, cultivates the spirit of song, makes the air vibrant with music, builds organs and constructs pianos by the multitude, and makes glad the heart with songs of praise.

Our Field Secretary of Religious Education, and the secretaries of the several departments of our work are uniting their minds and hearts to further this undertaking in the Sunday-school field because of its great possibilities for the kingdom. The greatest possibilities in the history of the Christian Church await us. The young people with their increasing intelligence from year to year are gaining power for good or evil. It is the duty of the church to direct this educated energy to the service of the church through the Sunday-school for the training of the infant from the cradle for Christ. Infant footsteps must be guided in the path of duty, childhood must be supervised in moral training, youths must be taught to give themselves, their talents of song and teaching and service to the kingdom, and all ages must be better organized for the promotion of the great mission of the church in home and foreign fields. Home fields are inviting us to larger service, foreign fields are making urgent calls for workers, and we must hear the call, train the workers, and meet the issue in order to be true to our trust in the kingdom of Christ.

Our people should give their hearty support and co-operation to the Seaside Chautauqua at Virginia Beach, Virginia, which has done so much to discover the power and talent of the great leaders in the Christian Church and to train those who attended for a larger outlook and better service for the various activities of the church in the future. Representatives for every conference in the entire church should gather here from year to year to study Sunday-school problems, to learn Sunday-school methods, and to gather a larger Sunday-school vision. The inspiration, the instruction, the deeper consecration, the closer fellowship, the community of spirit, the feeling of brotherhood, and the aspiration for greater things which those who attend receive, give them a larger outlook for the future growth and development of the church, the Sunday-school, and the kingdom of Christ.

The Front-Line Standard should be kept before the Sunday-schools all the time to stimulate them to strive for the goal. Unless we have a goal-idea in Sunday-school work as in other things, we shall not accomplish much. The greater impetus and stimulus which this standard will give the school, the appeal that it will give to the child's instinct for rivalry, the feeling of satisfaction at having reached the standard, the joy of victory, the cultivation of the spirit, "This one thing I do," the conscious attention to the undertaking, and the appeal for punctuality which the Front-Line Standard provokes in the minds of the pupils are all worthy of cultivation as real elements in the development of worthy Christian character.

The schools should endeavor to promote Teacher-Training as one of the most important undertakings of the Sunday-school to promote efficiency in method. Unless the teaching methods keep pace with those of the public school, the Sunday-school work can never be vitalized as it should. The most consecrated teacher without this necessary training in methods of teaching will be handicapped and will become discouraged when she has to compete with the skilful teacher without such training. Every Sunday-school should conduct a Sunday-school Institute or Teacher-Training Class continuously to train teachers in service as well as those who may become teachers for the future.

Our schools should give larger financial support to the Sunday-school Department of The American Christian Convention so that we may be able to employ our Field Secretary of Religious Education for his full time. He has done a great work with his limited time and financial support. The church could not make a wiser investment than to enlarge their contributions to the Sunday-school Department so that Bro. Hermon Eldredge might spend all his time in the field for larger amount of agitation, organization, and education, for better service among the Sunday-school workers in all our churches. We need several field workers in conferences to assist him in local support. We need larger contribution for literature and helpful information in the solution of Sunday-school problems. But we can never do much to conserve the latent energy of the young people for Christ and the church, and to train those who might become strong leaders until the entire church gets the larger outlook, and catches the vision of our present possibilities, and realizes the vision in concrete sacrifices, consecrated services, and organized co-operation.

A MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY

Those who imagined that Christian Endeavor had served its day have been caused to revise their opinion. All over the United States the Millions-Thousands Campaign, which is to be completed in the grand rally convention in New York City, July, 1917, is startling even the most sanguine Christian Endeavorers by the majestic things that are done in so easy a manner. Our societies have participated in the general forward movement and for this we are grateful.

All our Christian Endeavor Boards have been active in the interest of the work the past year—true yoke-fellows every one of them of the Secretary. The Secretary has attended several large gatherings of Christian Endeavorers, but notably the first magnificent All-South Convention held in Atlanta in July, 1916. He had a good time, because the Mrs. Secretary went along to make it so.

Total—77.

Christian Endeavor Missionary

The total paid in on the Christian Endeavor Missionary Fund at the close of the missionary year, September 30, 1916, is $253.06. The total amount paid during the year (September 30, 1915, to September 30, 1916) by the Christian Endeavor societies for Home Missions is $79.22 and for Foreign Missions $319.46. The Eel River Conference Christian Endeavor societies have decided to send out a missionary of their own. Our Board has decided to donate what has been raised toward the general Christian Endeavor Missionary Fund to them and for the future to ask our societies to contribute through the regular channels for missions. We regret to do this, but it seems that our societies will not have it otherwise. We urge all societies to give liberally for missions, since it means renewed life and vigor along all spiritual lines.

This department has undertaken to pay $50 a year to the support of Mr. Hermon Eldredge as Religious Education Secretary. We need more money for our work, and are expecting an offering this year to bring it to us.

May God bless our Christian Endeavorers in their great opportunity to serve the Kingdom.

A MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY

The relationship existing between religion and the modern educational system is daily being thrust into the lime-light to a greater degree. The church which backs education everywhere and Christianity which has more than all other forces put together been the producer of our present day educational systems have become more or less quickened, within the last few years, to the immanence of the problem and its vital bearing upon the advancement of the Kingdom of God. The attitude of indifference which has been too often assumed by the church with relation to education is very rapidly disappearing and there is a rising tide of recognition as to the supreme importance of education and the necessity of harnessing this great power to those forces that are making for the advancement of the Kingdom of our Lord.

Noticeably is this true with regard to the leadership of the church. The Board of Education of the United Presbyterian Church of North America has recently given us some arresting figures with respect not only to their own work but that of the church as a whole. They assert that approximately twenty per cent. of their pastoral charges are vacant. It would seem there are at least this many churches vacant in the Christian denomination. They state further that since 1898 the number of men ordained into the United Presbyterian ministry has slowly decreased. Facing such a situation the statement is made that the colleges controlled by the United Presbyterian Church have furnished over sixty per cent. of their ministers, while Christian colleges of other denominations have furnished over twenty-five per cent. State and secular schools have furnished only five and seven-tenths per cent. of the supply. Furthermore seventy-eight and eight-tenths per cent. of their own missionaries and eighty-two per cent. of all missionaries have been supplied by Christian colleges during the last four years. It is safe to say that this is a fair approximation of the work of all denominations, including the Christian Church.

Here is a straight-flung question for every intelligent member of the church to face: What is the significance of these facts?

It might have been added that, other things being equal, it has been discovered concerning the above figures those colleges having the best equipped Bible departments are at the head in the number of leaders trained for Christian service.

The inference cannot be mistaken. Here we are "down to bed-rock." The Church of Christ will succeed or fail, at home or abroad, as it is furnished with trained leaders. More than three-quarters of these leaders come from the Christian colleges. He who puts most into the Christian college, until those colleges are properly equipped and supported, is putting most into the Kingdom of God. When our colleges are fitted to do their work effectually, and have put into the field trained consecrated leaders, who, in their turn, fit into the work of mobilizing the youth of the land in the interests of Christian service we will be getting down to basic principles and will be building intelligently the fair City of God. It is small wonder that the larger denominations are beginning to make demands upon their members for millions to support more adequately the work of Christian education and that the membership of the church is responding as never in its history. It is not only that wealth has accumulated, making such advance possible, but that the highest intelligence is rising to meet the issue and the promise is great for the future.

Guided by divine wisdom, as they believe, and motivated by the call of the hour, the Council of Church Boards has taken action to lay the whole matter of Christian education before the churches through a five-years' campaign which is under way and to which the principal denominations of the land are contributory. The following is taken from a recent issue of The Herald of Gospel Liberty and will indicate the attitude of the Christian Church to the movement.

AROUSING THE NATION

Eighteen denominations, representing fifteen million church members, have united through their Church Boards in a campaign to quicken the nation to the vital importance of Christian Education for her young people.

The Christian Church is co-operating in the campaign.

OUR OBJECTIVES:

1. To complete the organization of our Conference and State bodies for a closer and more sympathetic co-operation with the Convention Educational Department.

During the last few years the organization of our work has been brought to a point hitherto unrealized. Some of the work accomplished in this direction has been effectual, some only nominal. No large success can be attained until our organization is more thoroughly perfected.

2. To make a thorough study of the fields.

In some sections of the country there is much overlapping and consequent loss to the Church at large. A thorough study of the field will not only indicate where such overlapping is to be found, but will reveal sections of the country where as yet the Church is making no attempt to meet the need.

3. To arouse the Church to the importance of Christian Education.

Comparatively few of the people yet realize that in Christian Education the Church has placed in its hands one of the most powerful agencies in bringing in the Kingdom of God.

4. To acquaint the entire membership of the Church with the opportunities offered by our schools and colleges for Christian Education.

Great numbers of our members are sending their boys and girls to schools and colleges with no higher educational standards, and at greater expense, unaware or unmindful of the fact that better facilities are afforded by their own Church where the education is Christian.

5. To secure students for our schools and colleges.

The result of such information must be to secure a larger enrollment in our educational institutions.

6. To provide Christian leadership for church and state.

"In the last analysis," said J. Campbell White recently, "every great movement depends upon the quality of its leadership."

7. To increase endowment.

Most of our schools are at present engaged in campaigns to increase their endowments. The Christian Church should add $500,000 to its educational endowment within five years. It is amply able to do so if Christ is permitted to have His way in the hearts of the people.

8. To enlarge equipment.

Every one of our schools is hampered by lack of physical equipment. As rapidly as possible they are meeting the needs of growth. But funds are short, very short.

9. To secure a larger place for Bible Study and applied Christianity in the curricula of our schools and colleges.

These subjects have yet to be given their rightful place even in our Christian colleges. Endowed professorships is one way of solution.

10. To aid in the development of the spirit of evangelism in our colleges that it may permeate the whole Church in an aggressive effort that shall be permanent and expansive.

11. To aid in securing larger support for the teachers and those employed in our colleges.

The church is quite unaware of the sacrificial work that is being done by the men and women who are giving their lives to the work of instruction in our educational institutions.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT OF THE AMERICAN CHRISTIAN CONVENTION,

WILLIAM G. SARGENT, D. D., Secretary, 11 Rutland St., Providence, R. I.

The campaign will extend over a period of five years and will cost approximately $20,000 a year, which will be provided by the denominational boards that are interested. Our contribution to the cost will amount to $200 a year, which amount the Educational Board will endeavor to secure from personal contributions.

THE GROWTH OF OUR SCHOOLS

The development of most of our schools during the last year is noticeable. The most marked advance at Defiance has been the union of Defiance College and the Christian Biblical Institute under the name "The Defiance College." The Christian Biblical Institute will henceforth be the Divinity School of Defiance College. This move promises to be in the interests of both Defiance College and the Divinity School, inasmuch as the raising of funds for The Defiance College will be facilitated by this means, and not only will all monies invested in the Christian Biblical Institute be conserved for the Divinity School, but it will share alike in increased endowments raised for the united institution. It is moreover in line with the movement that has been in progress for some years among our educational institutions—consolidation. Defiance has entered upon a campaign to increase her endowment at least $150,000, having secured already over $55,000 of the amount. Elon has added books to the amount of $1,000 to her library, equipped a new domestic science room, provided adequate fire protection, and doubled the capacity of her power house. The administration here has limited the attendance to 400, and decided not to go beyond that number until increased facilities will warrant them in so doing. Jireh has increased her library and added apparatus to the laboratory. The attendance here has increased to capacity to care for students.

Palmer College has erected a beautiful new building, costing $30,000, all of which has been subscribed by members of the Church throughout the Western Convention and citizens of the town of Albany. The building will provide dormitory facilities for the young women in attendance and also a fine gymnasium. The administration here has decided on making Palmer a secondary college, providing a two-year college course acceptable to the State University. The attendance has greatly increased this year. Palmer Institute, at Lakemont, N. Y., is increasing its fund to provide a new and up-to-date gymnasium, and has installed electricity. The attendance has increased at last writing. Union Christian College has redecorated parts of the interior of the building, and provided new furniture for library and several other rooms. The most pronounced move here has been the standardizing of the courses so as to receive greater consideration from the authorities in Indiana.

The work at Toronto has been somewhat hampered by the war which has taken nearly seventy-five per cent. of the student body throughout the Dominion. Kirton Hall, however, continues to provide a good home at very greatly reduced rates for students attending any of the Toronto colleges from the homes of Christian Church members or those studying for the ministry of the Christian Church.

The total attendance at our schools and colleges according to last reports was 1,500, of whom 105 were preparing for the ministry. This latter represents a slight increase over those reported for last year. It is evident the number of ministerial candidates is not on the decrease.

The total value of college plants is $851,143, of endowment $681,716, making a total of over $1,500,000 invested in our educational work.

There should be added to the endowment funds of our colleges and schools at least $500,000 during the next five years. The Christian Church is amply able to do so if it will. Nothing in the way of material help will mean more to the church in the near future than this.

The work at Franklinton is in full swing in the new and splendid building and the colored conferences of the South are each year giving larger support to the work there. The work which Bro. Blood, as chairman of the Board of Control, is doing is worthy of the very highest commendation, and it is hoped that the membership of the church will give the Board the assistance it deserves in the splendid work it is doing.

EDITORIAL

The editor of this publication is aware that all the educational institutions affiliated with The American Christian Convention are not of equal grade, as the name "Palmer Institute and Starkey Seminary" would suggest, but he chooses to enroll them all under the one general title, Our Colleges.

In doing so he understands, and wishes others to understand, that the Educational Department of The American Christian Convention is in no way involved by his editorial arrangement.

The Educational Offering of the churches, "College Days," and "Special Educational Services" should receive the heartiest endorsement of all our pastors and churches; the fullest response should be given to calls coming from our schools for service and co-operation. The Christian school is the brain center of our spiritual autonomy, and as such is entitled to the best of care, the purest sympathy, the most nourishing food, and the largest possible co-operation within the field of its activities.

Ownership ever implies responsibility. The Christian Church controls seven colleges and schools and a home for students attending other colleges. For the welfare of these schools the church is responsible. The burden cannot be placed on another's shoulders. It is a burden that rises to a great privilege, and as such should be assumed by the church.

That the Commission is of the opinion that the size of our constituency and the demands of our work will not warrant the Department of Education in giving financial support to more than two schools west of the Mississippi, and that our work should be concentrated at Palmer and Jireh, with a view of giving united support to, and securing the development of, these two institutions.—American Christian Convention, October, 1914.

The Interdenominational Campaign for Christian Education, launched and controlled by the Council of Church Boards, promises to be the most effectual movement inaugurated in recent years in the furtherance of Christianity.

The church must educate or go out of existence.

Educated Christian manhood opens all doors to the aspiring individual.

It is estimated that a college education as compared with a common school and a high school education enhances the value of life nine and one-third times; as compared with a common school education, 215 times; and as compared with no education, 817 times. These facts speak loudly.

Jireh College was founded for the purpose of giving a Christian education to the boys and girls of the last great American frontier. On the ranches and farms and in the small towns of the West, there are many young people who do not have high school privileges within their reach. They must go away from their homes for these advantages. Jireh College offers these boys and girls a high school education and two years of college work under Christian influences at a reasonable cost. Many students come from communities that do not have religious privileges. The college is a messenger of Jesus Christ to such students.

A new steam heating plant is being installed in Wilkinson Hall. This improvement makes it possible to utilize the entire building for school purposes. The next improvement to be made is the erection of a dormitory. This building is a necessity and must be provided in order to increase the number of students. It is the plan of the trustees to erect this building in the spring of 1917. The new dormitory, together with the present facilities, will enable the college to care for at least one hundred students.

The college is gradually enlarging its faculty, increasing its student body, providing better equipment, and widening the scope of its work.

KIRTON HALL

513 Markham, Toronto, Ontario

Prof. J. N. Dales, M. A., Dean

Prof. J. N. Dales, M. A., Dean

This is the educational enterprise of the Christian Church in Ontario. It is free of debt and owned and controlled by the Ontario Christian Conference. Its purpose is to provide a fellowship residence for young men preparing for the ministry of the Christian Church.

Terms:—There are no fees. Rooms, lighted, heated, and attended, with good meals, $2.25 per week. The hall is open from October 1 to May 1 in each year.

There will be no regular lectures during 1916-1917, probably not until the close of the present war. Students in residence will attend any approved college or school.

The Hall is managed by a Board of Administration, elected by the Ontario Christian Conference, and has been made possible by the benefactions of W. W. Trull, Orono, Ontario, and Richard Kirton, Newmarket, Ontario.

In case of any vacancy in the rooms because of lack of students, young men of Christian character are admitted at the rate of $4.50 per week, or $2.25 if they supply vacant churches acceptably on Sunday.

There is a free guest room furnished, and at the service of our brethren passing through Toronto.

Board of Administration—Prof. J. N. Dales, M. A., Drayton, Chairman; Rev. C. J. Felton, M. A., Oshawa, Secretary; Rev. W. P. Fletcher, B. A., Keswick, Treasurer; Rev. D. V. Van Norman, Markham; Rev. A. E. Cobb, B. A., Toronto.

For further information, address the Dean, Prof. J. N. Dales, M. A., Drayton, Ont.

"In its final analysis the success of any great movement depends upon its leadership."—J. Campbell White.

Of all missionaries during the last four years, 82% were trained in Christian colleges. Where equal advantages in other respects obtained, those colleges having the best equipped Bible Departments furnished the greater number.

The selection and the training of candidates for the Christian ministry is vital to the future of the church. So far as the training is concerned we must look to our denominational colleges to furnish that. Sympathy with denominational purposes is the result of long years of association with church leaders and ideas. Strengthen the church college.

Education is a life-long, worthy, and blessed companion; misfortune cannot suppress it; crime cannot destroy it; an enemy cannot alienate it; thieves cannot steal it; gold cannot buy it; despotism cannot enslave it; and death has no power over it.

At home it is man's good friend, abroad his introduction and guarantee; in solitude a companion, in society an adornment, it gives to life a grace and effectiveness that comes from no other source.

Rev. H. M. Hainer is representing the Christian Church in The Bangor (Maine) Theological Seminary. He is pastor of the Christian church at Bangor, and dean of the theological students who attend the seminary from the Christian Church. While not a professor in the seminary, he is recognized as officially affiliating with the work. In this capacity he will be in vital touch with students from our own churches, and can assist them in practical service, in pastoral city work, as well as in their educational training. This arrangement has the endorsement of the Home Mission Board of the Christian Church, whose cooperation in the matter make its possible for Rev. Mr. Hainer to be at Bangor. He now has under his care three students, and a good prospect for more. The work at Bangor affords an opportunity for ministerial students who would not, or who could not, go far from home for their school work. The Seminary is a Congregational school, and as such is endowed and managed by the Congregational Church.

FIFTY YEARS' MEMBERSHIP

Rev. Martyn Summerbell, D. D., reached the fiftieth year of his membership in the New York Eastern Christian Conference in 1916. The session was held at Hartwick, New York. The conference honored the occasion and paid high compliment to Doctor Summerbell by presenting him with a costly Loving Cup of fine metal and large dimension, the picture of which, together with Dr. Summerbell and J. F. Burnett, who had the honor of presenting the cup, is given above.

Dr. Burnett

In reporting the occasion to The Herald of Gospel Liberty, Rev. John Bowditch Gove, secretary of the conference, said: "Though among our present membership Rev. Henry Brown and Rev. William Case preceded him in joining the New York Eastern Christian Conference, their records are broken by intervals of membership in other conferences and it was reserved for Rev. Martyn Summerbell, D. D., who joined the Conference in 1866, to be the first in many years to round out a half-century of continuous membership. Not only has his name been found upon its roll, but his genial presence, his broad fellowship, his wide knowledge of public affairs, his business acumen, his splendid scholarship, and his polished oratory have added power and dignity to its sessions for many years."

AGED CHRISTIAN MINISTERS' HOME

The Aged Christian Ministers' Home, incorporated in 1894, was originally located at Castile, Wyoming County, N. Y. It was located there because Rev. and Mrs. P. R. Sellon resided at Castile and to Mrs. Sellon belongs the credit of raising more money there than any other one place. After the death of Mrs. Sellon and the removal of the last trustee, it was thought best to remove the Home to Lakemont, Yates County, N. Y., where several of the trustees resided.

Eight persons had been received into the Home at Castile and had passed into the Home beyond. The average sojourn of each in the Home was about six years. The removal occurred in 1908, after the last inmate had passed away and was under the caretaking of Rev. and Mrs. Alden Allen, who remained in charge up to the time of Mrs. Allen's death, in 1913, when Rev.

and Mrs. J. H. Carr assumed charge, remaining up to July, 1914, after which time Rev. and Mrs. S. Brate became the caretakers. Those in charge at present are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Walters, formerly of Madisonville, Pa.

Four inmates have passed on to the Home beyond since the removal to Lakemont:—Rev. J. J. Hillman, formerly of Kansas, aged ninety-one years; Rev. Thomas Holmes, D. D., aged ninety-five years, of Michigan; Rev. T. N. Davis, aged eighty-three years, of Dutchess County, N. Y., and Rev. E. C. B. Hallam, aged eighty-two years, who was for thirty years a missionary to India.

There are five people in the Home at present, besides the caretakers:—Mrs. E. C. B. Hallam; Rev. and Mrs. Edward French, of New Jersey; Mrs. T. N. Davis and Rev. Henry Brown, of this place. Only a few more could be comfortably accommodated. An addition will very soon be a necessity as well as a new heating plant. The house was an old-fashioned farmhouse that should be remodeled somewhat when an addition is constructed.

There is a beautiful outlook from the Home, facing Seneca Lake and commanding a view of the slope for miles beyond.

The Home needs a larger endowment and we ask that this worthy enterprise be remembered when our friends make their wills. Address all inquiries to either of the Executive Committee below.

THE EASTPORT CENTENNIAL

BY REV. FRANK G. COFFIN

The Centennial of the Eastport, Maine, Christian church was celebrated April 13 to 16, 1916. Rev. Joseph Lambert, the pastor, was assisted in the observance by Revs. P. S. Sailer, Thomas Cross, E. J. Bodman, and F. G. Coffin. Local clergymen and city officials also had part in the ceremonies.

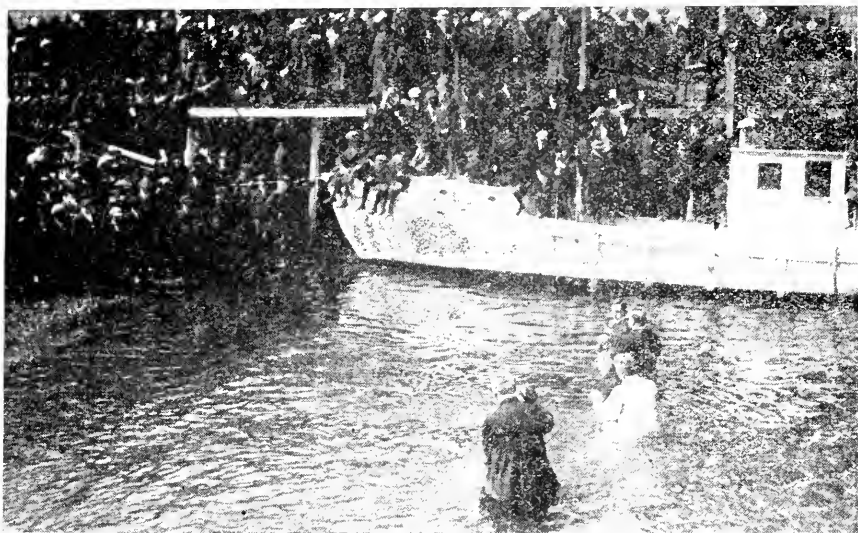

The Eastport church has recently enjoyed a phenomenal increase in membership and activities. A striking feature of the centennial celebration was the reception of fifty new members into the church, and the administration of baptism to thirty-five candidates in the Passamaquoddy Bay. At the latter service three candidates, oftentimes of the same family, were baptized simultaneously. The pastor repeated the baptismal formula and Revs. Sailer and Coffin assisted in the baptizing.

Prior to the celebration the church interior had been decorated and new electric light fixtures installed. It now has a beautiful auditorium. At one service the church received the felicitations of the sister churches of Eastport and the city officials. At another, a reception was given to the public. All services were crowded to overflowing with attendants. In two instances half as many were turned away as were accommodated. It was estimated that three thousand people witnessed the baptismal service.

The Eastport church has had an interesting history. The records of the church for the first twenty-six years were destroyed by a fire which swept the city in 1886. When organized in 1816, Eastport was temporarily under British occupation. The British withdrew in 1818 and the following year the present church edifice was erected. It is an evidence of the faith of those charter members that they built so permanently and capaciously. (They must have believed that the church was to have a great future. The stove they installed was suspended in mid-air and the sexton climbed up to it to build his fire.)

Elder John Colby was its organizer. He was a devoted itinerant preacher with a field including the territory from Rhode Island to New Brunswick. In this man's autobiography there is continually expressed the burden for souls. His first voyage to Passamaquoddy Bay was in search of health. While there he was impressed with the great need and opportunity for gospel labors. Then began a number of visits, separated by long intermissions, to many points in that northern vicinity.

Of the Eastport organization Elder Colby says: "We held our weekly conference in the large schoolhouse, for no private house could convene the people. A few had been baptized. More expected to be soon. Many more were under conviction, with a number of professors scattered over the island who belonged to no church. We deemed it proper that a church should be established, built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets." Twelve members, eight men and four women, united at the initial service.

Elder Colby was succeeded by an Elder Rand. Who the preachers were from 1819 to 1842 there are no records to indicate, because of the fire. Since that time the pastors have been as follows:—1842, E. B. Rollins; 1843-46, E. N. Harris; 1848-49, E. D. Bates; 1850-54, Chas. E. Bryant; 1855-61, Chas. Bugbee; 1862-63, A. H. Martin; 1864, Mrs. Cushing; 1865, J. W. Haley; 1865-67, J. E. Wright; 1867, Wellington Stearn. Then followed a discontinuance of services until 1871, when T. G. Moses reopened the work and remained its pastor for eleven years. It is logical to assume that but for his labors and those of his wife since his death, the church would not have survived until now. The memory of his gentle ministry will never be lost from the community. 1883-88, Rev. J. S. Jones was in charge; 1888-89, A. G. Hammond; 1890-91, I. E. Bruce; 1892-95, E. E. Colburn; 1896-97, O. E. James; 1898, Frazier Metzger; 1900-04, T. G. Moses again; 1904, Donald Hurlburt; 1905-06, James E. Ball; 1907, Mr. Appleby; 1913-14, Thomas Cross; 1914-15, Orman T. Headley; 1915, until the present, Joseph Lambert.

The church has raised and sent out five ministers of the gospel:—J. W. Osborn, Thomas G. Wilbur, John Bassett, James Leonard, and Irving Bassett.

HORACE MANN'S CHURCH MEMBERSHIP

In his early life he was not identified with any church, though none who knew him would question his faith, or his character. He and his wife and his niece united with the Christian Church at Yellow Springs, Ohio, under the pastoral care of Rev. D. F. Ladley, the first pastor of the church. Mr. Mann's membership was based upon his declaration of faith.

Rev. N. Summerbell, who later on was pastor of the church, but yet during Mr. Mann's life, says: "The Christian Church at Yellow Springs, Ohio, was the only church of which he was ever a member, or the leading principles of which he fully indorsed."

From The Life of Horace Mann, by Mrs. Mary Mann, I take the following:

The circumstances of his joining the Christian denomination, of which he speaks himself in one of his letters, has been made the occasion of traducing his character for truth and openness. Any man can be accused of insincerity by those who disagree with him. He has been accused of it, in politics by those who were angry with him for not adopting their views, and because he chose to make his own discriminations, and reserve to himself the right of breaking away from party, when he thought parties forgot great principles in their partizan zeal; and he has been accused of it in religious matters, both by those whose latitudinarian views went beyond all freedom of thought that he attained, and by those who feared all freedom of thought.

But the whole matter is definitely settled by Mr. Mann himself, who in a letter to Samuel Downer, dated Yellow Springs, Ohio, November 9, 1853, says:

Last Sunday, Mrs. M— (Mann), R—, and I joined the Christian Church. We thought our influence for good over the students would be increased. We had no ceremony of baptism; we subscribed to no creed. We assented to taking the Bible for the "man of our counsel," as it was expressed, with the liberty of interpretation for ourselves; and we acknowledged Christian character to be the only true test of Christian fellowship. That is all.

I was requested to speak for myself before the church. I said, that, ever since I had known the theological views of the Christian denomination, I had found them to be more coincident with my own than those of any other denomination; that I believed the whole duty of man consisted in knowing and doing the will of God; that I desired to express this belief and to show my regard for those who held it by uniting with them; that my views for years had undergone no change. And then I entered an explicit caveat against the idea that belonging to any visible church was essential to salvation, quoting the case of Cornelius, the centurion. I was unanimously voted in; and so of the others, without their saying anything, except through me, that they also wished to join.

By consulting the calendar for the year 1853, it will be seen that it was November 6 when Mr. Mann united with the church at Yellow Springs.

Horace Mann said of the Christians:

They call themselves Christians, not invidiously, but devoutly. They take the Bible as their rule of faith and practice, and in a true Protestant spirit allow liberty of interpretation.

THE BUREAU OF EVANGELISM AND SOCIAL SERVICE

This department of the work of The American Christian Convention has been established because of the growing conviction of its importance, as expressed in the utterances of the Convention officers and the action of the Convention in its quadrennial sessions. Committees on Social and Labor Reform and Evangelism submitted reports to the session of 1906, at Huntington, Indiana, favoring the appointment of standing committees on these subjects. At Troy, in 1910, the Executive Board was directed to appoint standing committees on Social Service and Evangelism. These committees were subsequently enlarged, and termed "Commissions." The Board also created a "Commission on the Country Church." The Commissions on Evangelism and the Country Church made a study of the subjects assigned them, and reported to the Springfield Convention in 1914 through their chairmen. The Commission on Social Service had effected a formal organization, and through its secretary had done some educational work. It had also attempted a "Survey" of the denomination, to ascertain the extent of its social sentiment and activities. The results of this survey, with a review of the Social Service movement in general, were presented to the Springfield Convention by the Secretary.

A report on Organization (which was not adopted, but was referred to the Commission on Organization and the Executive Board for report to the next Convention) contained a proposition for a Department of Evangelism and Social Service, to have the same standing as the other departments. As a substitute for this, the Convention was made to include a "Bureau of Evangelism and Social Service," under the care of the Home Mission Department, which was also directed to provide for its expenses. The Commissions on Evangelism and Social Service were continued, and made the basis of the new organization. As the work of the Commission on the Country Church is largely Social Service, adapted to rural conditions, it was thought best to include it in the Bureau. The organization is under the direction of the Chairmen of the three commissions, the Home Mission Secretary, and the Secretary of the Bureau, who also acts as Secretary of each commission.

The work of the Bureau and Commissions is mainly educational. Letters and circulars have been sent to pastors and conference officers. Members of the Commissions have prepared articles for the press, and have been ready to make addresses at conferences and other gatherings. Conferences have been urged to avail themselves of the services of the members. Courses of reading have been suggested and some books have been circulated. Plans for work in local churches have been worked out, and successful enterprises have been reported. Conferences have given increasing recognition to the work of the Bureau. The Secretary has answered a number of calls for lectures and addresses.

The importance of this movement is becoming more apparent to our people, and doors are opening. It is coming to be understood that Evangelism and Social Service are not antagonistic, but supplementary. The interest and energy developed by a sane and effective Evangelism demand outlet and expression, which the Social Program of the church helps to provide. On the other hand, no Social Program can succeed without the spiritual reinforcement which comes through proper evangelistic effort.

The Bureau can accomplish little without the hearty cooperation of the churches and ministers. It finds its greatest usefulness in affording a means by which these may help one another. To this end it invites the earnest effort of the entire brotherhood.

REOPENING AT WALNUT HILLS CHURCH, DAYTON

(THE NEIGHBORHOOD CHURCH)

Sunday, September 17, 1916, was a triumphant day at Walnut Hills Christian Church. It was the Reopening Day, and the weather was ideal, the audience large, the spirit good, and the offering magnanimous. Five years ago the building was dedicated, and within recent weeks had been extensively gone over, roof repaired, outside painted, inside beautifully frescoed (Tiffany Blend), and better fitted for the large audiences which gather there to worship.

The artistic finish of the interior is of high-grade work in every particular, and in the modified colors, the delicately-blended tints, the eye finds rest, and every sensibility of the soul feels delight.

The decorating was done by Mr. L. A. Dornbusch, a member of a sister church, and the pastor did himself honor in speaking of it, and introducing him to the congregation on Sunday evening.

But few congregations have grown so rapidly as has this one, and but few can present a better record of service, a larger liberality, or a greater devotion to a cause. From the first, Rev. Pressley E. Zartmann has been the pastor and the evidence of his success and popularity is full and convincing. Through the nearly eight years of his pastoral service he has so thoroughly put himself into the lives and homes of his people that they have become inseparable. An able pulpiteer, an efficient chorus director, a social favorite, and a devout Christian, Rev. Mr. Zartmann has won for himself an enviable place as a minister, and has led his people to a high standard of church activity.

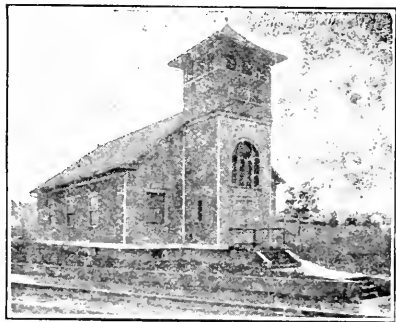

The program of the day included two services, one at 10:30 a. m., and one at 7:30 p. m. At the forenoon service there was a capacity audience, an inspiring service of song, a sermon, and an offering. The amount needed to complete the work as planned, required nearly five hundred dollars, the offering exceeding it by fully one hundred and fifty dollars, all of which was given promptly and gladly (Offering, $655.00).

Mr. Netum Rathbun, our genial Manager at the Publishing House, did good service in recording the names of givers. He was assisted by Mr. Fred E. Hamilton, Financial Secretary of the congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ashworth, in addition to their subscription, presented the church with a hundred and fifty song-books, and a lady member, whose name was not to be announced, purchased the aisle carpet, at a cost of fifty-five dollars. We must mention, too, that the Ladies' Aid Society had placed upon the table a fine silver baptismal font, which, with other tokens of love, revealed the deep interest the people have in the church at Walnut Hills. Beautiful floral decorations covered the communion table and graced the church in various places.

The music of the morning was led by a large chorus choir, two pianos, assisted by a quartet of horns, which adds much to the musical life of the church.

Rev. Samuel Quincy Helfenstein, D. D., was present at the forenoon service, and conducted the devotional part of the service.

This church became self-sustaining January 1, 1917.

A REMARKABLE MAN AND A REMARKABLE CAREER

REV. ALBERT WILLIS LIGHTBOURNE

Four of the family in the ministry, himself, his father, and his two sons. Their names are in the order of their ages:—

Rev. J. H. Lightbourne, father of A. W., Rev. A. W. Lightbourne, Rev. Victor Lightbourne, and Rev. J. H. Lightbourne. Rev. Jonathan T. Willis, an uncle to Rev. A. W., was also a minister.

Albert Willis Lightbourne was born at Morristown, Pa., June 22, 1857, and died at Kitts Hammock, Delaware, July 29, 1916.

At the age of eighteen years he entered the ministry of the Methodist Church. In 1888, he found his health had failed, and in the hope of regaining it went to California. While there he became associated with the editorial staff of the San Francisco Argonaut. His editorial work soon brought to him a place on the editorial staff of that paper, and later secured for him the editorship of The New York Mail and Express. In 1899, he became editor of The Wool Record, and Secretary of the Wool Exchange. During these years he was actively engaged in political matters, and his great talent as a public speaker, and especially as an after-dinner speaker, brought to him unusual prominence and popularity.

In 1902, he again entered the ministry of the Methodist Church and was assigned to Cardovia, Maryland, as a supply. Here God abundantly blessed his labors, and a revival that swept the countryside resulted. In 1910, the building of the People's Christian church, Dover, Delaware, of which he was the founder, was dedicated, Rev. W. W. Staley officiating.

PLEASANT HILL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

NOVEMBER 4, 1816—NOVEMBER 4, 1916

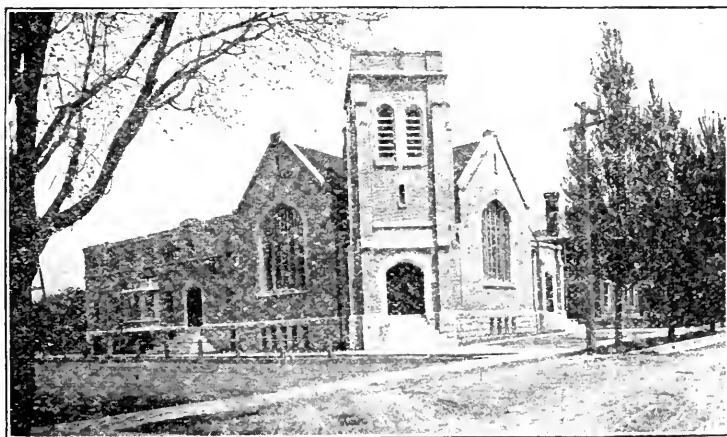

The Pleasant Hill Christian Church was organized at the home of Nathan Hill on October 4, 1816. The original name was Hopewell Christian Church, the name being suggested by a Mrs. Kyle. This name was later on eliminated by request of the Conference, since which time the name has been Pleasant Hill Christian church. The first house of worship was built of logs, in 1820. The second was a frame building, erected in 1846, which served the church until 1868, when it was demolished by a storm and a large brick building took its place. This building was dedicated in 1869 by Rev. Nicholas Summerbell, D. D. This building was twice remodeled and used until displaced by the present splendid edifice, which was completed in 1911, during the pastoral service of Rev. Alva Martin Kerr. The corner-stone was laid on Sunday, October 2, 1910. J. F. Burnett gave the address. On Sunday, December 24, 1911, the house was formally dedicated, Rev. Warren H. Denison, D. D., officiating. The first words of worship spoken in the auditorium were by Mrs. Kerr, the mother of the pastor, who, standing beside her son, led the audience in repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Among the pastors who served the church up to 1869 were Revs. Thomas and Samuel Kyle, Rev. David Purviance and his son Levi, Revs. John Williams,

WORLD ALLIANCE FOR PROMOTING INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIP THROUGH THE CHURCHES

The World Alliance was established by the conference held in Constance, Germany, and London, England, August 25, 1914.

Ten National Councils have been established, one each in Great Britain, France, Germany, Denmark, Holland, Italy, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United States.

The American National Council held its first conference at Garden City, New York, April 25, 1916. This Council is composed of 260 leading Christian citizens of the United States, representing forty-one different communions, the aggregate membership of which is more than 23,000,000. The Christians are represented by Rev. Frank G. Coffin, D. D., President American Christian Convention; Rev. Oliver W. Powers, D. D., Secretary for the Department of Evangelism and Social Service, American Christian Convention, and Rev. John Franklin Burnett, D. D., the Convention Secretary. It should be stated and remembered that this world movement is entirely free from all questions of church organization and doctrinal tests of fellowship.

"The purpose and work of the Peacemakers' Committee is to connect the local congregation with the World-Movement of the churches and to promote study in the local community of the principles of Christian Internationalism, to develop the intelligent convictions of church members in regard to their international responsibilities and duties, and to render possible the collective action of Christian citizens in making America's international relations Christian."

Immediately upon the adjournment of the conference of the American National Council The American Christian Convention established a Peacemakers' Commission, the membership of which is as follows:

Rev. Frank H. Peters, D. D., New Bedford, Mass.
William A. Harper, A. M., LL. D., Elon College, N. C.
Rev. L. E. Smith, D. D., Huntington, Indiana.
Rev. Harry G. Rowe, B. A., Farmer City, Illinois.
Rev. John F. Burnett, D. D., Dayton, Ohio.

SEASIDE CHAUTAUQUA AND SCHOOL OF METHODS THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

BY WARREN H. DENISON, PRESIDENT

The third session of the Seaside Chautauqua and School of Methods of the Christian Church was held at Virginia Beach, Va., July 17-23, 1916. It was the "best yet" of the three sessions held. The lecturers and instructors, and preachers, were among the strongest of our brotherhood, and some from without our own people.

Newman, D. D.; Rev. L. A. Harper; Miss Hazel A. Eldredge; Mrs. Athella land, D. D.; Rev. F. G. Rountree; Rev. H. G. Dr. Joseph Clark; Rev. A. Victor Lightbourne; Rev. P. H. Fleming, D. D.; J. F. Morgan; Miss Annie

It is understood that every speaker who comes before the Chautauqua must self and every speaker speaker was present at his time and place. The entire afternoons, from 1:30 to 7:15 o'clock, were given to rest, recreation, and social features.

every speaker who comes before the Chautauqua must self and every speaker speaker was present at his time and place. The entire afternoons, from 1:30 to 7:15 o'clock, were given to rest, recreation, and social features.

Mission study books were used by the two mission classes. The phases of church work presented were:—Bible, Evangelism, Laymen, Missions, Minister, Sermons, Lectures, Sunday-school Organization, Elementary and Adult Sunday-school Work, and Young People's Conferences. Many of the conferences have endorsed the work very highly and are planning to have a delegation from year to year in attendance.

mitteemen were present from Virginia, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Ohio, New York, Indiana, and Illinois.

After three years of experience, and feeling the value and need of the institution, it was voted, on recommendation of the Committee on Ways and Means, that the Chautauqua be made a permanent institution. It was unanimously voted that hereafter the guarantee pledges made to provide against a deficit be payable annually during the life of the Chautauqua, unless revoked at an earlier date by the makers. The minimum pledges were fixed at ten dollars, and the total pledge fixed at $1,000. Pledges were taken from those present to the amount of between four and five hundred dollars. These pledges were all permanent pledges. The General Secretary will seek to raise the full one thousand dollars in permanent pledges. Many of our brethren can well afford to invest from ten to fifty dollars in this institution that is doing so much to train, give inspiration, and prominence to the Christian Church. It is really a privilege to make such an investment. Most of those pledging already are those who are already giving their time and talent to make it a success because they have a vision of its value. Any balance remaining in the treasury each year will be refunded pro rata.

Officers elected were:—President, Warren H. Denison; First Vice-President, Netum Rathbun; Second Vice-President, F. G. Coffin; Third Vice- President, W. A. Harper; Treasurer, J. W. Manning; General Secretary, S. M. Smith; Recording Secretary, W. W. Staley.

Program Committee:—W. H. Denison, Hermon Eldredge, W. W. Staley, S. M. Smith.

Central Executive Committee:—W. H. Denison, W. W. Staley, I. W. Johnson, Geo. D. Eastes, J. W. Manning, S. M. Smith, R. B. Odom, W. J. Lee, I. A. Luke, R. B. Wood.

The General Committee requested those who delivered written series to furnish their manuscripts to The Herald of Gospel Liberty and Christian Sun for publication. It is our desire that the entire manuscripts be put in published form in a Chautauqua book, if some one would like to furnish the funds to do such a splendid work. The local Norfolk papers and Associated Press, as well as The Herald of Gospel Liberty and Christian Sun, did splendid service.

After a full discussion of the suggestion of starting a Brotherhood in the Christian Church, a committee consisting of Hermon Eldredge, L. E. Smith, and W. A. Harper was appointed to prepare a Constitution and Program, to be submitted for ratification and propagation to the Executive Board of The American Christian Convention.

The Sunday-school Board of The American Christian Convention held their meetings with the Chautauqua. We hope that next year both the Sunday-school Board and the Executive Board of The American Christian Convention may hold their session with us. We think all boards that can hold their meetings at that time and place would find it to their advantage to do so.

A Boys' Conference and a Girls' Conference were held this year, and there is a strong demand already for more of that splendid work for next year.

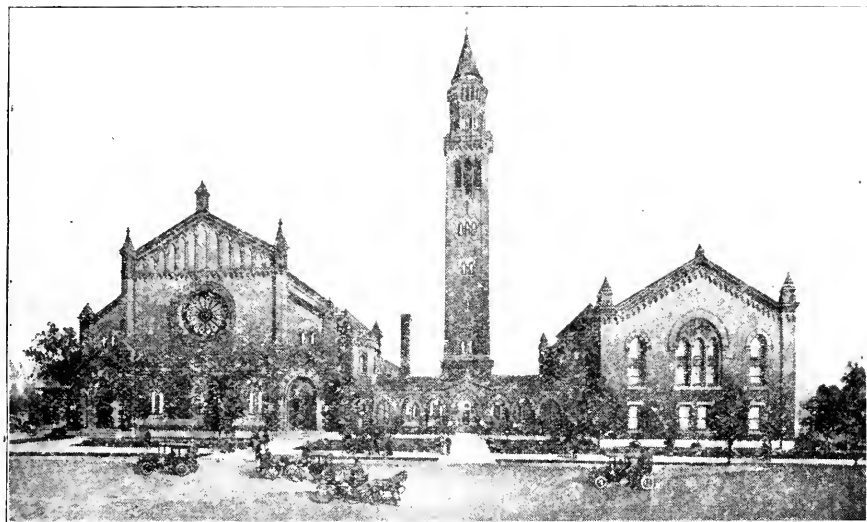

The Chautauqua is permanent, the guarantee pledges are permanent, the need of the brotherhood for such a school and conference is permanent. It is time to plan for it now. The officers invite correspondence. The session for 1917 occurs July 16-22.

There were 330 accredited members. Among them were our own representatives as follows: Rev. Martyn Summerbell, Rev. W. W. Staley, Rev. O. W. Powers, Rev. F. G. Coffin, and J. F. Burnett. Rev. C. G. Nelson was also present, and given the privileges of a corresponding member.

The officers of the Council are: Rev. Frank Mason North, D. D., New York, President; Rev. Riverton D. Lord, D. D., New York, Recording Secretary; Rev. E. B. Sanford, D. D., Honorary Secretary; Mr. Alfred R. Kimball, New York, Treasurer; Rev. Charles S. Macfarland, Ph. D., New York City, General Secretary; Rev. Frank G. Coffin, D. The world has gone wrong. Christianity must reverse the work of the world. Education must not be deprived of the guardianship of the Christian Church. To divorce education from the church of Jesus Christ, is to release the most destructive power ever yet known to men. The present conditions in Europe where rivers of blood cease not to flow, is an example of the influence of education divorced from Christianity. The nations now at war, fall upon each other with deadliest hatred and struggle to their death, all of which might have been averted had the education of the nations been seasoned with the spirit of Christianity.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH IN SOUTH AFRICA

GOOD HOPE MISSION, IDUTYWA,
TRANSKEI, SOUTH AFRICA,
April 19, 1916.

Rev. J. F. Burnett,
Dayton, Ohio, U. S. A.

DEAR BROTHER BURNETT:—A few words about our work as Christians in this country no doubt will be good news to the Christians of America, especially The American Christian Convention, the which you are a worthy Secretary.

Let it be understood that there is in South Africa a Christian Church known as the African Christian Church, and which considers herself as a branch of The American Christian Church, since the recognition by which we are looked upon as a recognized religious body by the authorities of this country, was first granted us by The American Christian Convention and the only thing our government was expected to do was simply to endorse the already granted recognition, which he did. It is our duty therefore as a Church to let our American Christian Church to know where we are and what we are doing from time to time. Now then the work of the Christians out here is going on hopefully and the outlook is bright. Soon after the African Christian Church was formed, the African Christian Conference was also organized.

The remarks of the proceedings of the conference which we have just closed will be interesting to our American Christian churches, which are as follows:

The first annual sessions of the African Christian Conference were held with the Good Hope Christian church, Good Hope Mission, Idutywa. Rev. F. Solani, pastor, on April 5-9, 1916. There were twenty-two delegates. The African Christian Conference, composed of four ordained ministers, three ordained evangelists, and seven ordained deacons. All the reports given from various preaching stations were good and encouraging.

The officers were elected as follows:—Rev. F. Solani, president; Rev. James W. Vella, vice-president; Rev. John D. Zamzam, secretary, and Deacon Mzingeli Roji, treasurer.

The Executive Board was composed of the officers and the three following names:—Rev. B. G. Ntshangase, Deacon Tom Roji, and Deacon Ben Ngceekana.

The Mission Council:—Rev. F. Solani, Evangelist Tom Roji, Rev. John D. Zamzam, and Deacon M. Roji.

Such are the remarks of the conference we have just closed.

The following is one of the resolutions as passed by the conference during its sessions:

F. Solani

RESOLUTIONS

WHEREAS, the Mission Council of the African Christian Church appointed Rev. James W. Vella, of East London, on August 28, 1915, to visit and inspect our mission work in Pondoland, and

WHEREAS, the report which has been given by Rev. J. W. Vella to the annual meetings of the African Christian Conference, which convened with the Good Hope Christian church, Good Hope Mission Idutywa, on April 5, 1916, concerning the mentioned Pondoland work, shows the urgent need of a man to be appointed and sent as a resident minister to Pondoland; therefore, be it

Resolved, That our beloved brother, Rev. James W. Vella, be appointed and sent at once by this conference to Pondoland field as a minister under the instructions of this conference. Be it further Resolved, That the Intsingizi be known as the head mission station of the Pondoland work in the district of Bizana.

Resolved, also, That a letter be written by the president of the conference to the resident magistrate of the district of Bizana, informing him accordingly as soon as the conference adjourns.

Also that a copy of these resolutions should accompany the said letter.

F. SOLANI, President.

JOHN D. ZANZAM, Secretary.

Hoping to see you, Brother Burnett, and the great work you are doing for the Christian Church.

F. SOLANI,

The founder of the African Christian Church and the organizer of the African Christian Conference.

Our "Little Winter Church" in Florida

I enclose to you an amateur photograph of our little church group in St. Cloud, Florida. We held services in the writer's home, the Brown Gable residence, for nine Sundays this season, at two p. m. These meetings were not announced to the public, but were made known to members of the Christian Church and friends as we happened to know them. The writer preached seven discourses on the book of Acts, Rev. M. P. Julian preached one sermon on "Heaven and Its Location," and Rev. Mrs. Nute gave one sermon on "Christian Preparedness." Rev. A. L. Brand is in the left, and is in poor health. He was, however, a willing helper. Rev. B. H. Chrisman is the only one in the group who did not attend any of the meetings. There were some others who did attend who are not represented in the picture. The services seemed to be interesting, spiritual, and profitable.

Rev. F. E. Rockwell, Madrid, Iowa—Evangelism.

Rev. U. S. Johnson, Ferguson, Iowa—Sunday-schools.

Territory—Its present territory includes the States of Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, and Nebraska, but looks forward toward additions to this, as the drawing power of Palmer College, located at Albany, Mo., shall be felt in a widening radius, and the Christian college shall become a more important factor in the growth of the Kingdom in the Mississippi Valley. The college, formerly a ward of Iowa State Conference, outgrowing the territory of said conference and extending its vision far beyond its control, made necessary a commensurate guardianship and so the Western Christian Convention planned for in 1914, was given more perfectly organized form in 1915. Besides looking after the college interests, it looks after the taking over of some or all the interests of the State conferences within its territorial borders.

UNREPORTED CONFERENCES

The editor exceedingly regrets that the following named conferences did not report. As many as three, and in some cases more, letters were addressed to the Secretary, and as many more, or more, of them to the President, which did not bring so much as an acknowledgment of the letter. When railroad companies, and other corporations write for certificates of ministerial membership, in such cases there is nothing to do but to say that they were not reported to this office. They are, Ohio, Northeastern Ohio, and Lincoln.

MINISTERIAL DIRECTORY

A WORD ABOUT THIS MINISTERIAL LIST

Everything was done that care, patience, and perseverance could do to have a correct ministerial list. After it had received editorial and clerical attention, it was carefully checked up by the original reports with unusual care and tested by every available means by which reliable corrections might be made. There are but few names on the list that were not reported to the office of the editor by conference clerks, and these few are given without naming conference membership. The absence of a name from the ministerial list means that it was not in the ministerial report given by the conference clerk.
